

Making Coding 'A's...

“Coding is the language of the future and every girl should learn it! Coding is fun, collaborative and creative!”

The Girl Code is a registered Non-Profit Organization which aims to bridge the gender gap in technology by hosting free coding workshops for girls. We have global chapters in India, Singapore and the USA conducted on 15th and 16th April, 2021, a tailored ‘Python crash course’ based on the different age groups. The girl students of IIT ,Vadodara, Indian Institute of Information Technology, Hyderabad taught about 20 of our girl students from class VIII to Class XII. The girls who attended these sessions were all praises of these sessions as their fear and inhibitions in learning coding has been vanished.

“And thank you so much for your help with the session! We really appreciate it! All the girls are very bright and talented , it was a pleasure to teach them :)”

A message sent after the session by
